OTHER SHEET

The image shows a fragment of an ancient manuscript, likely a tax or land record. It features a grid of handwritten numbers in black ink on aged, yellowed parchment. The numbers are arranged in columns and rows, with some numbers appearing to be in a different script or language than others. The parchment is heavily damaged, with significant tears, holes, and staining, particularly along the edges and in the center. The numbers are written in a clear, bold hand, and some are underlined or highlighted. The overall appearance is one of great age and historical significance.
